CHÂTEAU LA CAUSSADE
ROUGE

Pretty carmine ruby with garnets.

We appreciate the olfactory sweetness that emanates from the outset of this suave and coated bouquet. The aromas of vanilla and confectionery (candies with red berries, pomegranate, cherry) indulge without restraint.

An engaging nose.

The mouth is greedy from the onset, favoring the frankness of a ripe fruit and finding its balance in the liveliness provided by a support of acidity present and well dosed. A raw and textured, which can still gain some fade and harmony within 1 year.

Pretty carmine ruby with garnets.

The only merlot is at work in this wine "cause" (hill), which offers the nose a joyful mix of red fruits, spices, licorice and flint.

From a luxurious aging in barrels (18 months), the palate, wide and long, has inherited a silky vanilla that ennobles a mouth structured around solid tannins.
